General Comments

When I arrived at the facility the children were involved in a variety of activities from playing cards, building things with lego, playing with the large dollhouse, reading, and model building.

I was shown the library that the children created. Last weeks theme was books. Each child wrote a book and put it in the library. A barcode was placed on the book and a scanner was built so the children could scan the books out to read.

The theme of the week was drama. The children were in the process of producing a play. During my visit I was able to watch the group practice.

Farah takes the time to do activities with every child in the center. Today's observation was playing cards, discussing plants with a child and singing and dancing with another child. I observed plenty of positive guidance during the visit.

The children all seemed happy and content. They are a very active group.
