General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived at the facility to introduce the new Quality Assurance Monitor and perform a Monitoring Inspection. Upon arrival, the Educator was cleaning the tables and setting out activities for when the children arrive. The Educator also ironed Perler bead creations that the children had made earlier in the week. An alarm was set on the Educators phone as a reminder that the bus would be arriving soon.

The Educator greeted the children as they arrived by bus and attendance records were completed. Once inside the facility, children hung up their personal belongings and put indoor shoes on before washing their hands. Each child has a hook for their jacket and bookbag and a bin for their indoor shoes. Some children sat down to have afternoon snacks while others gathered in groups and were engaged in tabletop activities. One table was dedicated for crafting with clay. The children have been working for weeks on their creations. The Educator offered new clay to the children and had various age-appropriate materials for them to help with cutting and shaping the clay.

Only positive child guidance was observed during today's Monitoring Inspection. The Educator was welcoming, kind and actively engaged with the children throughout the afternoon. The Educator sat at a table teaching a small group of children how to sew, while offering words of encouragement and praise.
