General Comments

The afterschool children were getting ready for afternoon outdoor play time when I arrived. One group played "hot potato" using a bowl of water. When the music stopped, the child would pour the bowl of water over their head. The other group played soccer and had a jump rope competition. The winner jumped 58 times.

The groups came inside for snack time. After snack they were engaged in a variety play activities such as crafts, making masks, bracelets. Playing rock-paper-scissors and basketball. The children are trying to beat the world record on the longest loom band rope.

The children seem comfortable in the environment and familiar with the daily routine.
