General Comments

The children are familiar with the daily routine in the centre. They wash their hands and sign in at arrival then go to play. The educators stated they are independent group of children and enjoy make believe and pretend play. The transition to clean-up was completed by a light flick and reminder with children quickly engaging in clean up to join the small group for circle time.

A Christmas activity was provided as an invitation today on one table and lego on another. Children find and match their names often throughout their time at the centre.

Please update the quality assurance monitor on postings to Angela Tozer.
