General Comments
Purpose of visit was for regular monitoring inspection. Licensing staff arrived as children were having their afternoon snack. An educator was also seated at the table with the children eating her snack and engaging in pleasant conversations with the children, modeling appropriate table manners and behaviour. After snack children were observed washing their hands and given the opportunity to independently select an activity. Educators were observed to be engaged with the children at all times and were often directly on the floor at the children's level helping facility play by building on the interests of the children. The children displayed that they have a well establish routine and transitioned well to a story read by the educator. All children were engaged during this story and participated in actions and prompts provided by the educator. The educator engaged back and forth with the children as they commented on the story and answered questions. This book was illustrated by using mosaics and the children were given materials to create their own mosaics. The activity was prepared in advanced and allowed for children to go immediately to their art activity after reading the story. The classroom has a pumpkin long-term project that children are observing and commenting one, this is being documented and linked to the curriculum. Other projects within the classroom included maps and homes. Positive behaviour guidance was observed at all times throughout the inspection.
