General Comments

Upon licensing staff arrival, the educators and operator were arriving at the facility with the younger school-age group. The children engaged in outdoor free play activities and then moved inside to hang up their bookbags. Licensing staff observed a small group of children set up a board game that a child brought from home while others began to colour.

Educators were engaged and provided kind words, guidance and were showing the children the special snacks that were being prepared for summer birthday celebrations. Licensing staff noted from a child's file that specific allergies were observed. Educators ensured that special celebration snacks were always provided in a safe and inclusive manner.

Upon the older after-school group, licensing staff observed a group of children engage in a game of basketball while others played in the sandbox with trucks and shovels. The outdoor space had natural shade and the operator engaged with the children and cheered them on when shooting the basketball. Both groups took turns inside at the main table having cake and ice cream.

Child paintings, crafts and beadwork were on display throughout the learning space and supplies were available in marked containers. Additional space was designated for board games, Lego, books and other activities.

Child and educator files were complete and well maintained with required documents.

Licensing staff recommends for licensing.
