General Comments

When I arrived, the children were playing outside and the educators told me they have been out for most of the morning. The children had free play outside in the playground before going inside, getting washed up and having lunch. One group decided to have lunch outside as it was very nice out. After lunch, some children will nap while others will do quiet activities. I saw the set up for naps and the equipment meets regulations and the nap mats are spaced out well. This afternoon is supposed to get too hot to go outside, and so the educators told me they plan to stay inside for the afternoon and have some free play. They said they may watch a movie this afternoon as well.

This week the center has the theme of family week. Each classroom is doing an activity related to families. One class is going to make 'family quilts' craft activity with their family pictures on it, another class will make family boxes, while another classroom will make family posters for their walls. Last week they had a teddy bear picnic, which they said the children really enjoyed. An educator told me that in the summer the programming is a little different. I am looking forward to seeing programming in the fall as well. I observed charts where the educators keep track of their professional learning development opportunities and I encourage them to continue to do so.

I saw lots of positive child guidance techniques from the educators. They also displayed empathy, respectful communication, caring and kindness. Things appeared to be going well at the time of my visit.
