General Comments

Upon Licensing staff arrival, an Educator was preparing the room for the first group of children to arrive. The tables were cleaned and play material was organized. There was a creation station with artwork from Valentines Day, a Lego table, bins of beads, colourful Jenga blocks, board games, books, a cozy spot with couches as well as a large Birthday wall with popcorn cut outs for each child.

Educators walked to the bus stop during my inspection. First aid backpacks and attendance sheets were taken. When the children arrived at the facility, they played outside. The outside play space is large and fully fenced. Educators remained spread out to maintain clear lines of sight and were actively engaged with the children. Children were observed playing football with an Educator, playing on large frozen snowballs, using the swings and monkey bars, and playing basketball. When the children came inside, coats were hung up and bookbags placed on hooks with children's names. Once in the classroom, hands were washed, and the children sat together at the tables having a snack. Positive child guidance was observed and Educators helped with snack packaging when needed.

Staff and child files were verified and were in order. The parent board in the hallway contained all required documentation was visibly posted. Fire drills, daily attendance logs as well as monthly playground inspections are being documented. It was noted during my inspection that there is a hole in the end window screen facing the playground. Please repair or replace.

Licensing staff recommends for renewal.
