General Comments During my inspection I observed planned activities as well as purposeful planning for the week ahead. I also observed a wide variety free play options available to the children, all accessible and at their level, including : drums, varied building blocks, books, sensory bin, dolls, and race cars, among other items. I observed several opportunities to experiment with science to learn and to explore their culture. Staff were actively engaged with the children throughout the inspection, sitting on the floor or at tables to play with them, and sitting with them during snack. They offered support where needed and encouraged children to build their skills for independence where possible, offering plenty of praise when they completed tasks like washing hands and dressing to go outdoors. Staff spoke to children throughout diaper changes and other times they offered support. Staff took opportunities to teach the children words and phrases in Wolastoqey throughout the day. Staff used verbal and visual reminders (a timer on the wall) for upcoming transitions such as to snack or to outdoor play. The medication box was locked on a high shelf in the bathroom, but the key was observed in the lock. The administrator moved this key out of the lock during the visit. All postings and files were observed to be complete and fully up to date. Documentation of learning was observed in photos, artwork, and learning stories posted throughout the centre; these were dated and recent examples. I recommend this licence for renewal.
