General Comments

Children had just come inside after a fire drill when licensing staff arrived. Staff files were reviewed and updated. All contained the required documents. The children were engaged in some free play activity during the visit. A cardboard house was recently built and some of the children were in the process of decorating it. Other children were playing with blocks and a large robot made of cardboard. The children were receiving plenty of one-on-one support during the visit. The educators are patient with the children. Only positive child guidance and re-direction was observed. Please update the parent board with my correct email address. troy.williams@gnb.ca
