General Comments

Children were engaged in many forms of play during my visit. The three year old group were making butterflies with felt, cotton balls and other materials. The two year old group were learning about different types of fish and singing baby shark. The four year old group had a story read to them and were involved in some free play before getting ready for outdoor play time.

Operator stated they had not needed to use incident reports but did have folder of empty forms if they were needed.

Educators have been registered for the 30 and 60 hour courses with a start date of September 2023.

The center was clean and bright. Staff and children files were complete and organized.

Positive child guidance and appreciative communication between the operator, educators and children were observed.
