General Comments Today was the first day of Summer Camp. The children enjoyed both indoor and outdoor activities during the morning. The theme this week is "Games Galore." The children played an Eye Spy Game. The operator has laminated photos of different items in the backyard (flowers, ornaments, garden items) and the children take a card and run off to find their item. The backyard is a welcoming and inviting space with ample, natural shade. There are trails through the back that has different flowers, plants, vines and places to play. There is another area with a picnic table, rocking chairs, a pretend fire pit. The children also have a large garden box that they helped build and then planted the vegetables. The favorite game they played was when the operator takes plastic realistic looking grasshopper figurines and hides them in the grass and the children run to find them. During my visit, the Operator showed lots of positive child guidance- she encourages independence, offers praise and allows for opportunities to play independently and join in group activities. She speaks kindly and is patient. For the afterschoolers that are in French Immersion, she incorporates some French Language into her camps as the operator is bilingual speaking.
