General Comments

On the morning of my visit the two's and three's children were getting ready for out door play time. The 4-5 year old group were having snack and the educator were setting up invitations throughout the room. The water play table was set up as well as an area to make poppies. As the children finished snack they went to the quiet area too read a book until everyone had finished snack. One of the educators read a story " There's only one you"

The facility is clean and there were invitations set up in every classroom. There were extra educators on staff today so there were taking the time to plan activities and work on learning stories. I could over hear them discussing future activities they were planning for their rooms.

The children all seems happy and content while during my visit.
