General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived at the facility to perform a Monitoring Inspection. Upon arrival, children were engaged in free exploration as they waited for the rest of their peers to arrive. Color materials such as crayons, pencil crayons, scissors and paper were set out at a table. In one class, an Educator was sitting with a small group of children reading "Dragon loves Tacos" while others were observed smiling and laughing as they played dress-up. In the downstairs classrooms, a water table was prepared with colored water, ocean animals, and empty play doh containers that the children used to scoop the water.

The transition to morning snack in all classrooms was smooth. The Educator gave the children a gentle reminder that they would be cleaning up for morning snack in 5 minutes. A clean up song was played and the children and Educators worked together to put the toys away. Proper hand washing was observed before the children sat at the tables for morning snack. In each room, the class sang a song or said a quick pray before eating. As the children finished their snack, they prepared to get ready to go outside. The Educators were attentive to the needs of the children as they got ready to go outside. Once a small group was ready, one Educator took them out while the other Educator finished helping the rest of the children get dressed for outdoors.

The classrooms offer a variety of learning stories, artwork and pictures of the children. Colorful webbing was observed in the entrance of the classrooms. The materials are in bins that are at the level of children for easy accessibility. The Educators were engaged with the children throughout the morning. Educators were observed sitting and reading with the children, engaged in conversations during morning snack and offering words of encouragement. An Educator was observed offering positive child guidance and redirection during a small disagreement between children. The Educator remained calm and spoke softly to the children.
