General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived at the facility to perform a Monitoring Inspection. Upon arrival, the children in the 2-year-old classroom were in the process of finishing morning snack. One Educator was inside with a child who was still eating, while the other Educator transitioned outside with the rest of the children. In the 2/3-year-old-class, the children were putting away toys in preparation of morning snack.

Downstairs, the children in the 4/5-year-old class were engaged in a variety of activities. A small group of children were working together to build houses using magnetic tiles. Others were observed building railway tracks for their trains. The classroom is bright, organized, and welcoming. One of the Educators announced to the children it was time to tidy up for morning snack. Once the children had finished cleaning up from their activities, they gathered together as the Educator read "Nose to Toes." The Educator stopped throughout the story, engaging the children through questions. Hands were washed before the children sat down for morning snack.

After snack, the 2/3-year-old-class prepared to go outside in the fenced in play area. Once outside, the children were observed blowing bubbles and playing in a small playhouse. One Educator was observed running, laughing and playing games with a small group of children. Transition periods this morning were smooth. Staff files and child profiles were reviewed today and contained all required documents. Please ensure that staff and child profiles are easily accessible.
