General Comments
A monitoring inspection was conducted today. Children were observed in both outside and inside play. The learning environment was set up with defined interest centres. The children's current interest is snow and ice. A web supporting this learning was evident with the children ideas scribed on the web. Children have the opportunity to explore ice fishing, snow flakes through a magnifying glass, open-ended art activities, snow flake facts and science experiments; (what melts ice....salt or sugar?). The children were observed engaged in play and learning and appeared happy and content in their learning environments. The educators were observed engaged with the children and have respectful and meaningful conversations with them.
