General Comments

Monitoring visit performed. This was my first visit as the Quality Assurance Monitor to this facility. I was greeted by the Administrator and given a tour of the centre. Staff were very welcoming, Confirmed the facility's compliance with vaccination status and checked the tracking sheet for staff.

I saw recent documentation and newsletters from the fall in all the rooms. These are very well done and look great. Purposeful planning is posted in all the rooms and includes the children's interests. There are family photos included in the space in addition to photos of the children.

The children are getting excited for Christmas and there was Christmas music playing in all the rooms.

Children were involved in lots of creative activities this morning: process art with painting, coloring and playdough. Educators were sitting and talking with the children and remained thoroughly engaged providing opportunities for rich conversations. The educators are warm and nurturing to the children offering lots of cuddles and comfort at times of sadness and also to build a strong, trusting relationship.

New staff files were checked and all are complete. Child files were also checked and all is in order.

Diapering procedures are posted and all requirements for diapering are being met.

The centre is clean, organized and welcoming. Administrative staff are preparing for their Sunny Days Christmas Market which is a fundraiser they are holding to establish community connections and raise money for the Women's Transition House.
