| General Comments Monitoring Inspection completed today. Children were observed during indoor free play and snack. The indoor environment provides children with opportunities to access all areas and materials and were observed to move freely throughout the learning environment as they played alone and with others. For transitions, QA Monitor observed that educators gave ample time to children to prepare them to move to the next activity (from free play to hand washing and snack time). Preparing children in this way, supports children in knowing what comes next and allows transitions to run smoothly. Documentation and photos posted reflect the children who participate in the program as well as their local community. |
