| General Comments |
| During today's monitoring inspection, children and educators were observed in the indoor play environment and preparing for walks and outdoor play. Materials and invitations for learning are neatly displayed to invite children's engagement. There is evidence of a purposefully planned and documented program in the webs, learning stories, photos and children's art work posted throughout the environments. In rooms 3 and 4 materials available to children in interest centres include but are not limited to the topics children are currently exploring. Discussed ensuring that topics of interest documented by educators are also evident in the materials and invitations offered to children in room 5. |
