General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection occurred on July 7, 2025.

Children were observed engaged in indoor free play. Educators shared that the children are currently interested in community walks, maintaining the school garden over the summer, outdoor water play, visits from special guest speakers, and being active in the gym. Educators were observed using positive language and offering gentle reminders, and they played an active role in the children's activities.

Incident report forms are completed for reportable incidents, and parents are advised accordingly. Parents of children in attendance are permitted entry to the center at any time. Emergency evacuation procedures are practiced monthly and posted. Evacuation procedures were observed in a prominent location.

The room environment was inviting and thoughtfully arranged. Materials were purposefully selected to engage the children in play, and books available reflected the children's current interests. The room included clearly defined learning and play areas, and children's artwork was displayed throughout the facility.

Drinking water was made available throughout the day. Outdoor stationary equipment was observed to be surrounded by protective surfacing of an appropriate depth. Daily activities were purposefully planned and documented in the program, and various forms of literacy were present throughout the indoor environment.
