General Comments
Children were just arriving when licensing staff arrived. Children engage in free play upon arrival. The children were independent and were able to return to activities they were engaged in the previous day, if chosen. Children enjoyed playing with lego, dramatic play with a variety of dress up clothes, taking some downtime on the large soft blocks, and/or choosing markers and paper to draw and create. All resources are accessible, and the centre has a large variety appropriate for their interests. Before the children went to the washroom before snack, the educator called out each child's name to take attendance. When they returned the educator encouraged children to have snack but respected their wishes if they chose not to. The children were playing a game of find the duck which the educator was encouraging and giving hiding suggestions. The educator noticed the basket for the ducks was unravelling so they replaced it with a metal bucket. The educator reminded children of the rules within the classroom and was very respectful of their independence. The educator allowed the children to take a vote on whether they wanted to go outside, and majority ruled to go out, so children took all their belongings for pick-up to occur from the playground. A reminder was given about ensuring all required forms are included in staff files. There was a discussion with the educator about documenting the children's learning within the room as the photos and learning stories were from several months ago. There were some items in the room, for example the bookcase and gazebo that need some TLC.
