General Comments

Renewal inspection completed today.

The indoor environment is purposefully planned with materials and invitations for play that are easily accessible for the children to choose what they wish to play with. Creative art and mark making, blocks, science, dramatic play, and small manipulatives were some materials children were observed engaged with in solitary and group play during inspection. Educators engaged with children in play, asking questions and supporting their efforts.

A variety of documentation posted throughout the learning environments and in children's portfolios highlights recent interests, achievements, and learning. Webs, photos, books and stories created with children, charts, and learning stories are types of documentation posted.

Handwashing and diaper changing procedures were observed.
