General Comments A Monitoring Inspection occurred on June 3, 2024. During this inspection, children were observed engaging in indoor free play, while infants were observed during their nap time. The educators reported that the children are currently very interested in building with loose parts. They have integrated blocks that feature pictures of local buildings, the children's homes, and special landmarks, which were collaboratively created by the children and educators. During the observation, educators were seen using positive language and offering gentle reminders to the children. They have also thoughtfully incorporated the children's interests into their documentation, demonstrating a commitment to responsive and interest-based learning. Parents of children present at the center are granted entry at any time, ensuring transparency and open communication. The facility has a clearly visible and prominent place to post the license, the current inspection report, the current monitoring reports, and any orders for compliance, making this information easily accessible. Rest periods are tailored to meet individual needs and do not exceed two consecutive hours, with all nap equipment meeting the required thickness of at least 5 cm. The daily routine is visibly posted in each room, providing structure and consistency for the children. Books available in the facility have been carefully selected to reflect the children's interests, promoting engagement and a love for literacy. The facility boasts a varied supply of appropriate equipment, materials, books, and toys, supporting a rich learning environment. Several well-defined learning centers, including those for building, reading, dramatic play, and science, offer children diverse opportunities for exploration and growth.
