General Comments The operator used positive child guidance during the monitoring inspection. Children were spoken to with respect, given choices, and provided many opportunities to be independent. She also used a moment when one child took a toy from another child as a teachable moment to discuss how everyone uses their imagination in a different way. The routine is calm and the while the environment has many high-quality resources and defined learning areas, it still is very much a home environment. All the materials are accessible in the space. The operator has added a map under the clear tabletop and marked where the children's houses are. Meals and snacks are provided as an option for parents to sign up for. Today was "Kid's Pick" for afternoon snack. Children had homemade cookies and bananas. Additional bananas were offered to anyone who wanted a second helping. Before pick-up time, children were given the change to write in their "Write About Your Day" book. Different mark making materials are available for the children to choose from. Child files were reviewed, and all documentation was included.
