General Comments A mid-morning visit was conducted to complete the facility's annual inspection. Child-to-staff ratios was respected throughout the visit. Upon my arrival, preschool children were engaged in a craft activity. Following the activity, the children washed their hands and had a snack. Once snack was completed, the group transitioned outdoors for outdoor play. Documentation of planning and programming was evident throughout the room, with webbings and project displays posted for reference. Current learning experiences and activities reflected the children's interest in insects. Facility meets requirements under the Act and regulations; license is recommended for another year.
