General Comments A renewal inspection occurred on October 1, 2026. The parent information board was observed and was complete, containing the required contact information as well as copies of previous inspection reports. Invitations to play were thoughtfully arranged throughout the environment and included activities featuring crocheted animals " The Hungry Caterpillar", dinosaurs, and blocks. Children's individual memory books were stored and contained photographs documenting activities and experiences from throughout the year, providing a meaningful keepsake for families. Documentation of children's learning and development was displayed throughout the classroom in the form of learning stories. The operator was observed actively engaging with a children at their level, participating in play and fostering positive interactions. Outdoor play areas were well-equipped and engaging. Children continued to show interest in the worm garden, and a variety of materials were available to support exploration and active play, including digging tools, trucks, ride-on toys, and slides. The washroom was equipped with all required essentials, including soap and a stepping stool to support children's independence while using the toilet. Staff file was reviewed and complete. Children's files were also observed and were complete and up to date. Attendance records were current, and fire drill records had been properly documented and filed.
