General Comments
Licensing staff arrived at the licensed facility to conduct the yearly license renewal inspection. When the younger school-aged children arrived, they went into their classroom to have their snack and have free play time before going to the pool for their scheduled swim. There were seven children with one educator plus lifeguards at the pool. When the older school-aged children arrived at the licensed facility, they went straight to the gym for their scheduled gym time. The children played with the parachutes for the first half of their scheduled gym time. Some children left the active play to draw as the educators brought mark making materials for the children. After the scheduled gym time, the children went to their assigned classroom to have snack or engage in the invitations of play that were set up for the children. Child-to-staff ratios were exceeded throughout the license renewal inspection.
