Comments: The Inspector and the Quality Assurance Monitor observed an educator in the hallway. Upon noticing the presence of the Inspector and the Quality Assurance Monitor, the educator returned to the classroom, where another staff member was present. Later, the same educator was again seen in the hallway. The Inspector and the Quality Assurance Monitor entered the classroom and found one educator alone with 13 children. The Quality Assurance Monitor went to get the operator to cover the child-to-staff ratio, while the Inspector remained in the classroom. During that time, another staff member arrived to cover the ratio. Deficiency is now compliant
