General Comments

An inspection was conducted at the facility on October.22/2025 . During the visit, all staff files were reviewed , complete and up to date. A random review of children's files were also reviewed and complete.

Children were observed participating in a variety of activities throughout the program. In the gym, they engaged in a group game of Duck Duck Goose. In the classroom, children were seen reading in a designated cozy corner and playing air hockey. The environment also included a selection of board games such as Monopoly, Connect 4, Skip-Bo, and Hot Potato on low open shelving.

The classroom featured seasonal decorations, including a board displaying the message: "What does a skeleton say before dinner? – Bone-Appétit." The October calendar was posted and included children's birthdays. Hooks were available for each child's belongings, supporting organization within the space.

Attendance records were reviewed and found to be complete. Allergy information was visibly posted. A Halloween countdown was displayed near the entrance, reading "9 more sleeps," indicating preparation for upcoming seasonal activities.

The facility was observed to be organized and supportive of a range of age-appropriate activities and routines.
