General Comments A monitoring inspection occurred in the morning. The preschool children were observed engaged in a variety of activities, including using spinning chairs, playing with trucks and cars, and sitting with an educator while reading books. Several children worked together to construct a "bus" using chairs and a table. During this play, they shared that they were going on vacation and planned to stop at Walmart to get groceries first. The children were also observed interacting one-on-one with an educator while having their faces painted. The school-age children were not in attendance at the time of the inspection. Positive child guidance techniques were observed. The educators were seen engaging at the children's level, providing appropriate supervision, using encouraging language, offering choices, and assisting children with decision-making. Several forms of documentation were visible throughout the room, including individual portfolios, photographs, and children's artwork. The room was well-organized and inviting, offering a varied supply of age-appropriate materials, books, and toys. A clearly visible and prominent area was designated for the posting of the facility license, current monitoring reports, and any orders for compliance. Additional documents reviewed included incident logs, daily attendance records, and records of evacuation and monthly fire drills.
