General Comments Upon licensing staff's arrival for the renewal inspection, the children were finishing lunch. Once they had finished eating, they remained in the front room under the supervision of the educators, who sat with the children and engaged them in conversation. After lunch, the children put away their lunch boxes and gathered in the gym/activity room, where they sat in a circle and played a memory game while one educator cleaned the front room. Part of the group then prepared for an afternoon outing to a nearby driving range. The children lined up with the golf clubs they had brought from home and boarded the Get Active bus. Before leaving, educators reminded the children to fill their water bottles and gather their belongings. The children who remained at the program chose to play dodgeball in the gym, where educators actively supervised and participated in the activity. Throughout the inspection, only positive child guidance practices were observed. Staff files and children's files were reviewed and found to be in compliance. Licensing recommends the program for renewal.
