Comments: Deficiency is now compliant Door to downstairs laundry room where all toxic products are kept was not locked at beginning of inspection. Operator locked it at time of inspection.

General Comments

Operator only had one child in attendance today. Operator and child were just finishing up snack when I arrived for today's renewal inspection. After snack, they went downstairs and played freely around the room.

When it was time to go outside, operator was observed helping and encouraging the child to try and get ready on their own. Operator ensured she stayed right by the child's side to provide assistance when need be. While outside, they began to go for a walk, but the child wanted to play in the backyard instead, operator too the child's need on what they wanted to do and went to play in the backyard instead.

Operator was observed being attentive and playing with the child during time of inspection. She was observed providing gentle reminders when needed. She was also observed ensuring she got down the child's level when speaking with him.

All staff and child files were observed today and found to be in compliance with licensing regulations.

General Comments

Please ensure that you have your activities (program planning) documented in a binder for inspection purposes moving forward. Should you require assistance with this, please reach out to your Quality Assurance Monitor for assistance.

Recommended for renewal.
