General Comments
On the day of my visit I was impressed by how peaceful and calm the centre is. They have an open concept room but the way that the space is divided allows the teachers to take the children into smaller groups to follow their interests and pursue different activities. Their circle times were very interactive but polite as the children practised and learned how to be courteous with their teachers and with each other. Michelle and I reviewed the staff files and everyone is up to date. The children had outdoor play today once the temperatures had warmed up a bit. The staff model a high standard of sincere and warm behavioural interactions and the unhurried transition times and calm atmosphere really seem to allow the children to be more relaxed than is the norm.
