General Comments
Completed the follow up to the renewal inspection today. The K/1 school age group were engaged in writing their own stories and reported their recent interest in certain authors/books. The educator within the room was observed interacting with the children at their level and supporting their creativity. The children were eager to share their stories and creative art. The dramatic play area within the K/1 room had many empty shelves within the kitchen center. Displaying some of the materials and props throughout this area makes this space more inviting and encourages the children to explore and play. The older school age children were observed reading books, completing puzzles, coloring and building with magnet blocks. These children were eager to share their recent creations which consisted of cardboard boxes that they had turned into kitchen appliances and other models. These documentation pieces were displayed within their environment. There were invitations set up around the room for the children to explore. The painting touch ups and repairs are scheduled to be completed next week.
