General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection was completed this afternoon. The school age children were inside at my arrival. Children were making their own books, playing with Play Doh, playing with Lego, and putting together rock puzzles, with Sandstone rocks, that were found earlier in the week. Before heading outside to play, children were observed getting their sun screen on, and filling up their water bottles. Educators took children to the upper parking lot, where they were observed collecting rocks, exploring the woods, and setting up hammocks. Educators were engaged with the children, joining them on their nature explorations and having conversations along the way.
