General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection was completed this afternoon. School aged children were observed in their classrooms and the gym. Both groups had a preschool educator covering, as both groups had an educator absent today. The younger group (Kindergarten / Grade 1) were observed finishing their snacks (Goldfish Crackers, Clementines, and Apple Sauce). After snack, children were observed sitting at their tables, watching a video on how to make paper airplanes, while their educator assisted the children, in making their own airplanes. After the airplanes were completed, educator took children to the hallway bridge, and children were observed throwing their airplanes over the bridge. Educator was engaged in the whole process, creating excitement, asking questions along the way, and helping the children with their airplanes. The older group were also observed during snack (Goldfish Crackers, Clementines, and Apple Sauce). A discussion was had with the older children on what their present interests included, and the children stated the following: playing outside, building forts in the snow, reading books, drawing, art shows, and playing Monopoly. After snack, children were observed playing in the gym - ball play, dancing, and running games.
