| Comments: The 2/3 room downstairs was off ratio. One staff member with seven children between the ages of two and three years old. There would have been the requirement of two staff members for this group. staff-child ratio must be always maintained when children are awake. The operator was advised that one child would need to go home, or one staff member would need to be called in. A staff member was called and arrived shortly thereafter. At 3:09 a child from the 2/3 room came down the hallway into the un-used room where myself and Jennifer were. The educators had not noticed he had left the room. At 3:11 the infant educator, in the room across from us, notice the child in the room with us and called over the educator. | | | |

| General Comments |
| When Quality Assurance Monitory Jennifer Godin and I arrived at the Centre the Operator was outside walking towards the door with multiple boxes of Kleenex. When I arrived at the infant room, there was six infants with one educator and all infants were awake expect one was still sleeping. The other educator was in the bathroom changing a diaper with one infant. Therefore, there was a total of two educators with seven infants. The Staff-Child ratio for infant is one staff to three infants. The operator advised she is assigned to the infant room in the afternoon and only went to her car to get the Kleenex while the children were sleeping. A reminder, ratio can only be reduced by half when all children are sleeping, and ratio must be maintained in the building. The outdoor emergency exit was shovelled. The children celebrated valentine's day, there was cookies and cupcakes. |
