General Comments

Upon Licensing staff arrival, the smaller Get Active bus arrived with the first group of children from school. Personal belongings were hung up, outdoor footwear changed, and handwashing was observed prior to snack time. As the children finished their snacks, an Educator clapped their hands three times and the children clapped back in response. This signaled that it was time to clean up and get ready for activities.

During play time, children were observed playing dodge ball and shipwreck in the gym and drawing with markers, playing card games, playing hide and seek, and ping pong in the main room. A group of children later moved to the warehouse area to play X-Tag. Educators were actively engaged in conversation and play with the children in all three spaces and headcounts were observed when transitioning from the main room to the warehouse and gym space.

Play material was in good condition and organized on shelves or in centres. Children's belongings were tidy in wooden cubbies, winter coats, boots and book bags were organized in a room with hooks. Fire drills are being completed and logged monthly and daily cleaning sheets are being kept. A daily routine was evident as the transition time between activities was very smooth. Planned activities were posted near the entry way and were being followed. Child and staff files were verified, and all required documentation were in order.

Licensing staff recommends for renewal.
