General Comments

On the day of my visit the children were having story time. Shannon is using the story "I am Enough" by Grace Byers to talk about self esteem and how our differences make us beautiful. Shannon is planning to trace their bodies and work on self portraits to continue this activity. Then the children made up a dramatic game of looking for their babies.

I looked at their Gingerbread book which documents how their gingerbread men ran away. This activity was shared between 10 ELC Homes and went on for three weeks before Xmas. It encompassed many aspects of the Curriculum and the documentation is very well done.
