General Comments

The preschool children were having a snack when I arrived for the annual inspection. No school age children are registered in this license for this summer.

When the children finished snack, the educators ensured that everyone had a chance to use the washroom, then got ready to head outside.

While outside, some children were observed playing soccer, some were exploring for bugs, some were playing in the wooden house and others playing on the structure. All educators were observed moving around different parts of the outside play space to ensure they could properly supervise the children. The educators were engaged with the children indoors and outdoors.

The children came back inside just before the rain, did circle time and the educator read two books. The children were engaged in the stories.

Around noon the children had lunch. At lunch time all educators were observed sitting at the table with the children and talking with them.

The playground was inspected and meets regulations. New natural elements were added since my last inspecting such as a balance beam made from tree trucks, wooden chairs, and a wooden house with a ramp.

During nap time/quiet time, the children who do not sleep, are provided with quiet tabletop activities.

Everything is in compliance; I recommend for renewal.
