General Comments

This was my first visit to this Centre. Administrative staff greeted me and provided a warm welcome and a tour to see the rooms and meet staff and children.

Both the rooms are beautifully set up to ensure a warm and home-like feel for children and educators. There are natural elements, soft furnishings, picture frames, plants and unique wooden furniture. The rooms are organized and very clean. Furniture is used to create purposefully planned learning invitations and books are placed throughout the room, which adds to the literacy rich environment. Programming is strong and evidence of the NB Curriculum Framework is present in all aspects of the rooms and interactions with children.

"The Pigeon Drives the Bus" by Mo Willems and the song "Slippery Fish" are the two big interests currently in these rooms and there were learning invitations, documentation and the children's creations posted to highlight learning.

New staff files were verified and all is in order.
