General Comments

Upon Licensing Staff arrival, Laura Casey and Megan Munden, observed the After-School Age children (K-3 Room) during indoor free play. Many children were gathered around playing at an indoor sandbox station while others played with wooden blocks, bracelet making, colouring and a large Connect-Four game.

During free play, the children were taking turns getting ready to go to the pool which allowed ample time for smooth transition for toy station clean-up and time to apply sunscreen. An Educator said to the children there was a mystery toy to be cleaned up which enticed the children to tidy up the toys. A yellow marker was the mystery toy, and the child was excited to know they found it.

The After School 4-5 Room was tidy and organized. The children were playing with pearler beads, choreographing a dance and chatting on the sofa. The room was warm, but Licensing Staff were informed that a heat pump was being installed later in the week.

Before leaving for the pool, an Educator conducted a headcount at the door to ensure all children were accounted for. While at the pool, Educators were spread out in the in the pool and maintaining site lines. Everyone was happy and having fun.

Child and Staff files were organized and complete. The Administrator finished organizing the K-3 room before the kids return from the pool.

Licensing Staff recommends for renewal.
