General Comments

On the day of my visit I was properly screened upon entry and all Covid protocols are being followed. The children were playing outside. The outdoor play space has expanded and as the children get older everyone has developed their own fairy gardens and added their individual interests to their spots. At the moment Lynne and her group are very interested in the process of art making and they have some very lovely learning stories illustrating their discoveries.

Lynne and I reviewed her paper work and all administrative work is well done and up to date.

Today Lynne read the children a beautiful book before lunch called "Sam & Dave Dig a Hole". This sparked a lot of very interesting discussion.
