General Comments
When I arrived, the children were having lunch. They came in early because it was raining. Today there is only two children in attendance. Following lunch one child went for a nap and the other went to the arts and crafts room. He played with Pipettes, water and colorant, then his play emerged into small animal figurines playing in the water with some shaving cream. Lynne was engaged with the child, encouraged the imaginary play by asking questions and engaging in conversation with him. There is evidence of purposely planned and documented programming. Learning stories, photos and videos are shared with parents. The theme currently is fairies. There is a parent board on the wall documenting the learning about fairies and how it emerges and also includes conversations with the children. Since my last visit, new materials have been added such as sandboxes outside and they also have an aquarium indoors with stick bugs. The children seem to really enjoy the bugs, they help care for them and feed them. The children have access to different types of materials for different types of play and learning such as arts and crafts, imaginary play, blocks, literacy, math and science. Lynn is observed always using a kind and respectful tone with the children. Lots of positive conversations and positive child guidance observed such as encouragements, positive reinforcement and offering choices. Everything is in compliance, I recommend for renewal.
