General Comments

During the monitoring inspection, children participated in sensory play in the craft room. The operator provided each child with a paint shirt, individual tray with cups, scoops, whisks, small sea animal figures and other tools. She added shaving cream, water and paint to the trays. She sat with the children and encouraged conversation by asking open-ended questions.

One of the afterschool children who attends the ELC Home got a new puppy last month and 4 other children who attend also have dogs at home, so the operator extensively planned this past month around dogs and puppies. There are two webs with quotes of the children's words and ideas, photos from the families, posters, and art displayed in the hallway. She has decided that this interest in dogs will extend to next month and she has started to plan her programming around farm animals.

The indoor play space has small tables and shelves which allow for children to independently access materials and resources. The operator has organized the space and toys to meet the needs of her current group. Baskets and bins are labelled with both photos and labels are in three languages- Welsh, French and English.

The operator interacts with children on their level and offers lots of nurturing and compassionate care. She speaks in a kind and loving voice and is attentive to the needs of the children.
