General Comments

Children were finishing their afternoon snack upon arrival of licensing staff. This is the first monitoring inspection at the operator's new location.

The indoor play area was well maintained and organized. The play materials provided for a variety of child lead play-based experiences and supported the developmental ages of all of the children present. The children had the ability to independently select all of the materials available within the home.

All medications, cleaners and toxics were stored safely under lock and key.

The outdoor play area contained many invitations to play. The children were currently interested in the frog pond, large rocks "dinosaur teeth" and what the squirrel was collecting. The educator was building on these interests and supporting the children's learning by asking them questions and providing materials for children to expand on their play.

Positive behaviour guidance was at all times.
