General Comments

Children were engaged with puzzles upon arrival of licensing staff. The room was observed to be clean and well maintained. Children had sand table, playdough, magna tiles, gross motor toys and dramatic play items as some of their available materials. The white board had a question of the day, a brain buster and allowed for children to sign themselves in for the day.

Children were given the opportunity to vote on what book they would read together, the children were excited to read the new Pete the Cat book that just arrived from the book order.

The children presented their show-and-tell item and engaged in group discussions after reading several books. Children were again given a choice on which song they wanted to sing and dance to after reading.

Pick up was observed and the educator engaged in pleasant conversation with guardians about each child's day.

Positive behaviour guidance was observed at all times.

Staff files were reviewed and contained all appropriate documentation.
