General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection was completed this afternoon, at Grand Bay After School Program. 28 children were present today. It was a beautiful sunny day, and the children were observed during outside play. Children were observed playing on the playground, playing Grounders, relaxing in hammocks, and drawing. Educators were engaged with the children - asking about their day, and conversing about their interests and activities. The inside environment was also observed. Several different invitations were set up and organized on the tables.
