General Comments
A monitoring inspection was completed this morning. Two children were present during the visit. QAM observed several learning invitations. Children were observed looking at books, playing with beads, eating snack, dancing, and building with Lego. Music played in the background and a child was observed singing and dancing to this music. Children are presently learning about families and family pictures were posted on the walls. Picture frames filled with family photos were also observed on shelves and tables. Art, Science, Literacy, and Building Centers were well stocked and documentation in each of these areas was observed. QAM observed several examples of learning through nature and these included homemade fishing rods which were made out of sticks, pictures of children feeding birds, painted rocks, animal tracking, and nature scavenger hunts.
