General Comments When I arrived on Toddler group was outside playing. I toured the center the Educators were all very attentive with the children. Some rooms were playing games, reading a story and one group was going on a pretend shopping trip. There were numerous learning stories on the walls in every room and there was evidence of daily planned activities. Spoke to the educators in the infants room. There were 8 children in the room during my visit. There were 2 new casuals working that day and the educators thought it would be better to have the children together with a familiar face even though when was against COVID 2 educator bubble rule. Discussed the importance of following the safety procedures for COVID with the educators. Overall it was a nice visit. The educators were friendly and center is nicely set up.
